

Ceremony for the degree of Sublime Master of Wisdom, 72°

Concerns the general aspect of our Institutions. Originally the Mysteries were the Greater and Lesser, but seem to have had subdivisions and under the Ptolemys were increased to Seven, or a Square under a Triangle. These are still represented by the seven sections, or classes of our Rite, the intermediary grades being schools of Instruction in matters of Science which may be elaborated ceremonially; whilst the combined seven sections represent the dogmas of the primitive system. They again correspond with the seven states of Macrocosm, and Microcosm.

Sign: raise sword, and place flat on forehead, then salute thrice in front, twice to left, and twice to right.
